Installation Click on a file from above, or the first link on the left. Click to run the installer. (Not all the programs are installer programs, so this may not work). When the program is installed, and you're logged in to the program (the program will search for the userid, and log you in automatically), go to Tools>Install. If you have an idea of what you want, you can click the "Browse" button (beside the "Install" button) to search for programs that are already installed. If you want to install a program from the CD or DVD, and you have that program in your hard drive, then you can click the "Install from CD" button to install the program from the CD. How to Install .NET Framework v4 Once you have a copy of the .NET Framework v4 installed on your computer, you can go to the Start menu, and then Search for "Microsoft .NET Framework". You will see a list of programs with a ".NET Framework" in the title, with a version of the .NET Framework (depending on your computer setup) that you can install. If you want to install a .NET Framework that you have found online or on a CD, click the Install button. You may need to download and install the .NET Framework before you can install a program that you find that requires the .NET Framework. You can also visit the .NET Framework Downloads site to find .NET Framework installer downloads. How to Install VLC Player Once you have a copy of VLC Player installed on your computer, you can go to the Start menu, and then Search for "VLC".
